FRIDAY, February 22, 1906.

Edward L. Peck, a prominent lumber merchant, of Saginaw, Mich., fell from the fourth floor of the Seelbach, a Louisville hotel, and was almost instantly killed.

Dobsonville, Feb. 16.—Former Speaker David B. Henderson has suffered another paralytic stroke which has deprived him of his sight. His general condition is worse. It is believed the end is near.

Under the terms of a bill introduced by Representative Hopkins, W. M. Smith is allowed to construct a bridge across the Tug Fork of the Big Sandy, below Williamson.

Five prominent women of Owensville, all officers of the Union Temperance League, will appear before the grand jury of that county for the purpose of testifying against alleged violations of the local option law.

It is exceedingly improbable that there will be a river and harbor appropriation this year. The money that would be spent for the development of the country and the advancement of the trade and commerce is needed for the glorification of the administration and a greater navy.

The Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church is in receipt of a telegram from Bishop Bashford, stationed at Shanghai, and other missionaries scattered through out the Empire, to the effect that no trouble is anticipated from the boxers.

A bill allowing the jury to fix the crime and the Judge to fix the penalty has been favorably reported in the House. If it becomes a law it will leave no room for hanging judges, and will result in overcoming much of the law's delay. It is a bill that has much to commend it to favorable action in both branches of the General Assembly.

Architect Andrews, who is in charge of the new State Capitol building, has been elected to the Kentucky Press Association and made an argument in favor of appropriating another million dollars to carry out changes proposed by him in the plans originally adopted. Mr. Andrews is evidently a man of considerable ability and his argument was very cleverly made. He can not consistently be censured for his position if we are permitted to make allowance for the ambition and innate selfishness of the race, because, as he admitted, this great building will be a monument to him, and naturally he wants to make it as creditable a monument as the people of the State will stand for. Mr. Andrews will take all he can get. It is for the Legislature to say whether we shall build a State Capitol within the bounds and in keeping with the already expressed and approved intentions, or add a large sum for gratifying the ambition and increasing the fame of the architect.

In the first place a serious and everlasting mistake was made in electing Frankfort as the permanent Capital city. When this was done the people of the State should have and probably did dismiss the idea of placing Kentucky in the ranks of the States that expect to attract much attention through the beauty of their seat of government. We must spend our money along other lines. Frankfort is not a representative Kentucky city and can never be, because of its location and surroundings. Nothing within sight of there suggests the beautiful Bluegrass area which has been sung by poets and painted by artists. Lexington is known throughout the world and is visited by tourists from everywhere. A two million-dollar capital would not be out of harmony there. But that is a possibility of the past. The location is fixed, and a large hole in the ground there represents a considerable sum of money already expended toward its new capital. The foundation for the enormous structure is already in a million dollars is enough to expand upon it. If a mistake in location has been made, let's not make another by putting too fine a building there. This is a case where harmony is cheaper than discord. A $2,000,000 building in Frankfort will be like a picture without a frame, or a gem in a mud-hole, an unaccounted diamond.

The Jar of Coughing

Hammer blows, steadily applied, break the hardest rock. Coughing, day after day, jars and tears the throat and lungs until the healthy tissues give way. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral stops the coughing, and heals the torn membranes.

"I suffered here Ayer's Cherry Pectoral for the cough, and it gave me great relief. I have used it since I was a child, and it has always done me good."—Mrs. Mary C. Smith, New York.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is sold by all druggists.

John A. McCall, late president of the New York Life Insurance Company, died in New York.

The New District.

A new Judicial District has been established, composed of the counties of Carter, Elliott, Lawrence and Morgan and is called the 32nd white Lewis and Greenup go with Boyd in the 20th judicial district.

Judge Kinney will remain Judge in the Boyd, Lewis and Greenup district, and Commonwealth Attorney Waugh may move to Boyd county and hold or stay in the 32nd and secure the appointment for this district.

It is understood that Hon. M. M. Rodwin will be appointed Judge of this district.

Concerning Good Teachers.

"Other things being equal, a low standard among the teachers of the public schools is the principal cause of a high percentage of military men in the army."

den Hartin, in a characteristic speech before the Constitutional convention of 1890, opposed free schools, because he said they were under the management of a miserable set of untrained teachers at best. He said the worst-taught child in the world is one who is taught by an illiterate country school-master. In this he was correct, and the employment of this class of teachers, in many districts, goes far to explain the high rate of illiteracy. They get their appointments by favor or fraud in the purchase of the question list prepared for the examination of applicants, so strongly denounced by Judge Faulkner, of the Knox Circuit, in a recent charge of the jury. That system of examination is wrong. The test of qualification should be by a diploma or certificate from a normal college, or at least an educational institution of known merit. We do not allow a physician to prescribe for the body unless he has a diploma from a medical college. Yet we permit an incompetent applicant to minister to the minds of our children upon a mere examination before Trustees equally illiterate.

"It is to meet this necessity that we need these State normal colleges. Teaching is a profession, requiring technical education or, at least, in other learned professions, and the State cannot be too prompt in providing such education."—Courier Journal.

All of which is true. The fact that it is true makes apparent the necessity, if Kentucky is to have technically educated teachers, that employment which provides something more than a starvation wage for six months in the year and licenses for the other for the other six be provided for them. The best way to command good teachers is to pay them living salaries. Kentucky needs good teachers and a greater liberality on the part of the State and counties than now exists will be required to keep them.

Joseph Johnson, a paroled prisoner from the Frankfort penitentiary, was shot and killed in a field near his home on Stone Gap creek, Pike county, last Saturday. He was twenty-six years of age and a defensible man. No clue to the murderer.

There is a great deal of talk just now of annexing Gerdes District to Cabell county. Almost everybody seems to favor such a move, but the Advocate has not yet made up its mind whether or not it will advocate annexation.

—Wednesday Deputy Sheriff Wayne Dameron, arrested Michael Cantrell, at Catlettsburg and brought him to Williamson where he was placed in jail. There is $100.00 reward for Cantrell, who is accused of shooting a woman at Paintsville, Ky. He will be handed over to the proper authorities as soon as convenient.

Owensville, Ky., Feb. 20.—John Watkins, a negro charged with murdering Wm. Mullins, white, was arraigned in the Circuit Court here, the trial being set for Wednesday. Few indications for carrying picnics have been returned by the present grand jury than have been returned by a grand jury for several years. The falling off in this kind of crime is without doubt one of the warnings of Judge Wilkinson at the last August term of court, that with the beginning of the year 1906 all indications of this kind would be punished with a fine of $200 and twelve months in the county jail.

William Farley, forty-four years old and single, was probably fatally injured in a shooting affair which took place in the public road near the head of Kountz' creek, a mile and a half back of Kellogg. The fatal shot is believed to have been fired by Ira Hartman, aged twenty-one, of Cerro, who made his escape and has not yet been apprehended. Frank Winters, who was with Hartman, and who took part in the riot, was captured and now languishes in the Wayne county jail.

Owensville, Ky., Feb. 13.—By the explosion of a trap in the home of her son-in-law, James Davis, in Sherburne, ten miles from here, Mrs. Maggie Colver, aged forty, was fatally injured. Davis attempted to blow out the light and blew the flame into the house, lighting the oil and exploding the lamp, throwing the burning fluid all over Mrs. Colver. All her clothing, even to her shoes, was burned from the body. Davis' hands were burned in an effort to save her.

David Hall was struck and killed by C. and O. train No. 2, at Bellfountain crossing near Ashland, about 2:30 Saturday afternoon. His team was in a track and the horse killed. His body was picked up and taken to the C. and O. depot.

Mr. Hall was a brother of Gilbert Hall, who lives on 15th street and Winchester avenue, Ashland. David Hall was 28 years old and leaves a wife and three children. He had been to the mill and was on his way home when he was killed.

Incident, O. Feb. 1.—The report of the grand jury to-day, contained some sensational allegations, or charges, and has set the entire community to talking.

Purl Willis, late Deputy Probate Judge and late Captain of the Seventh Regiment, Ohio National Guard with U. A. Thompson, Speaker of the Ohio House in Colonel, was indicted for forgery.

While the indictment does not specifically state the offense charged, it is known that Willis is charged with forging the name of Jere Davidson, one of the trustees of Memorial Hall.

Three died at Peck's Mills, Logan county, v. Va., Robert Peck, aged one hundred and three years, probably the oldest man in West Virginia, certainly the oldest in this section.

Mr. Peck came to Logan county from Montgomery county, Virginia, more than three quarters of a century ago, and founded one of the leading families of the Gray valley.

He settled a few miles above the town of Logan, on the Upper Graydon, and succeeded in creating in the wilderness one of the finest country homesteads in West Virginia. His children and grand children are numbered by scores, and many of them are leaders in the business and political life of the State.

THE YELLOW FEVER GERM has recently been discovered. It bears a close resemblance to the malaria germ. To free the system from disease germs, his most effective remedy is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Guaranteed to cure all diseases due to malaria poison and constipation. See at A. M. Hughes' drug store.

DOCTORS COULD NOT HELP HER. "I had kidney trouble for years," writes Mrs. Raymond Connor, of Shelton, Wash., and the doctors could not help me. I tried Foley's Kidney Cure, and the very first dose gave me relief and I am now cured. I cannot say too much for Foley's Kidney Cure. It makes the diseased kidneys sound on their will eliminate the poisons from the blood. Unless they do this, good health is impossible. Sold by Louisa Drug Company.

HOW WILLIAMS GOT A GIFT.

College Received $100 from Man Who Had Fallen Heir to $500,000.

A quarter of a century ago there lived in western Virginia a gentle old man subsisting on a meager salary. One day, relates the Boston Herald, he learned that his brother had died in San Francisco and left him a fortune of $500,000. The transition was staggering, especially so since it was followed by a shower of appeals for money from every quarter of the globe and from persons known and unknown to him.

His son, who acted as his secretary, noticed with regret that the father seemed unable to grasp the meaning of his new power, and was glad to have him at least once a little interested in one of his business letters. It proved to be from Williams college, asking an endorsement on the plea that the old man's birthplace was now the institution.

"I'd like to do something for that school," said he, meditatively. "Well, I would, father, if I were you," his son encouraged him. "I believe I will." The old man's ardent kindled. "I believe I'll give them something handsome."

"So you should," the son pursued. "Why not?" "I will, I'll give them,"—he thought for a moment—"I'll give them $100!"

All persons holding road or bridge claims induced by the road and bridge commissioners are requested to file same with the County Court Clerk on or before March the first, 1906. T. S. Thompson.
